NOMEN cleat 3

After 20 successful years in the superyacht- and the big boat market we bring out a new generation of folding cleats, designed by Axel Hoppenhaus, as contemporary further development of the classic NOMEN cleat. Patend pending.

5 design aspects

- General improvements

1. Greener production by up to 50% less materials input
2. New optimized single-hand folding mechanism

- For performance boats

3. 30% less product weight

- For production boat manufacturers

4. Reasonable price level for serial boats
5. Screw positions adaptable to those of other brands enables boatbuilders to offer NOMEN as OPTIONAL UPGRADE without the need of drilling different bores

- and moreover

We tested an excellent holding force, with a maximum permitted rope tearing off with no faults on the cleat.
Manufacturing in Hamburg and Northern Germany.

NOMEN

rubber buffer • responds to tension between the two cleat arms and keeps cleat arms open and closed

polyamide ring • takes up the rubber buffer, stands for a perfect synchronisation of the cleat arms

Screwing • 3 countersunk screws hold the cleat perfectly in position joint bolts • stainless pins, covered by an injection moulded polyamide sleeve for insulation against corrosion

O-Rings • so positioned that cleat arm and base stay in a defined distance to each other

Assembly • the joint bolts can be inserted by hand without tools - the o-rings always keep them in position

Optional Upgrade • on request of production boatyards the 2 outer screws can be adjusted to screw positions of other brands without changing the drilling pattern
